

Stu Levy Joins Domino's as Executive Vice President, Supply Chain

January 10, 2019

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 10, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- Domino's Pizza (NYSE: DPZ), the largest pizza company in the world based on global retail sales, has hired Stu Levy as its Executive Vice President of Supply Chain. Levy will report to Chief Executive Officer Richard Allison and will join the company effective Jan. 21.

Levy was most recently Executive Vice President, Chief Transformation Officer for Republic Services, Inc., a leading provider of non-hazardous solid waste collection, transfer, disposal, recycling and energy services serving more than 14 million customers nationwide.

Prior to joining Republic, Levy spent 13 years with Bain & Company, and served as a partner from 2008-2014, where he advised clients on strategy, marketing, organization, operations, technology, and mergers and acquisitions.

"Stu has a proven track record of successfully leading organizations through complex change programs and has a recognized ability to develop and execute practical strategies to drive bottom-line results," said Allison. "He's going to be a terrific addition to our experienced leadership team."

Prior to Bain & Company, Levy had leadership roles at McMaster-Carr Supply Company, Utility Management Services Group and Andersen Consulting. He holds a degree in Mechanical Engineering and Materials Science and a Master of Business Administration degree from Duke University.

Domino's Supply Chain division operates 23 fresh dough manufacturing and food distribution centers across the United States and Canada; one equipment and supply facility; one vegetable processing plant; and one facility that makes the company's thin crust product.

About Domino's Pizza®

Founded in 1960, Domino's Pizza is the largest pizza company in the world based on global retail sales, with a significant business in both delivery and carryout pizza. It ranks among the world's top public restaurant brands with a global enterprise of over 15,300 stores in over 85 markets. Domino's had global retail sales of over $12.2 billion in 2017, with more than $5.9 billion in the U.S. and more than $6.3 billion internationally. In the third quarter of 2018, Domino's had global retail sales of nearly $3.1 billion, with over $1.5 billion in the U.S. and nearly $1.6 billion internationally. Its system is comprised of independent franchise owners who accounted for over 97% of Domino's stores as of the third quarter of 2018. Emphasis on technology innovation helped Domino's achieve more than half of all global retail sales in 2017 from digital channels, primarily online ordering and mobile applications. In the U.S., Domino's generates over 60% of sales via digital channels and has produced several innovative ordering platforms, including Google Home, Facebook Messenger, Apple Watch, Amazon Echo, Twitter and text message using a pizza emoji. In late 2017, Domino's began an industry-first test of self-driving vehicle delivery with Ford Motor Company – and in April 2018, launched Domino's HotSpots[®], featuring over 200,000 non-traditional delivery locations including parks, beaches, local landmarks and other unique gathering spots.
